

February 7, 1951.

Dr. H. H. Strandakov,
University of Chicago.

Dear Dr. Strandakov:

Thank you for your invitation to meet with the Genetics Club. I wish that I could have the leisure to accept this invitation, but am afraid that I will be somewhat rushed, as I plan to return the same evening, by car if possible.

Dr. J. F. Crow will probably be accompanying me; he has asked me to mention that he hopes you will be able to spend a few minutes with him.

We expect to arrive in the mid-afternoon, and I shall look forward to joining you in your office prior to the lecture.

Yours sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg